

WOMEN'S FEDERATION
FOR WORLD PEACE AUSTRALIA

Anne Bellavance

President, Women's Federation for World Peace Australia

Educator | Heart-led leadership | Driving women-led initiatives to strengthen families, foster community cohesion & create lasting impact across Australia & the Pacific.

With 40+ years in the not-for-profit sector across Australia, the US, and Canada, Anne is dedicated to fostering a 'culture of heart' through the core values of Women's Federation for World Peace International and the motto, 'Living for the Sake of Others.'

Anne is a seasoned educator with a pure science degree with distinction and a Master of Education from Monash University.

As a relationship specialist, she leads initiatives in women's empowerment, leadership development, and intercultural understanding, including Global Development, Aid & Service projects across the Pacific Islands and Australia, with a strong focus on strengthening families and communities.

Anne also mentors' women from diverse backgrounds through initiatives such as WFWPs 'Leading into the Future Mentorship Program,' building meaningful partnerships that advance leadership, family values, environmental stewardship, and the Global Women's Peace Network.

She shares her life with her supportive husband, four sons and their families, and enjoys kayaking, snorkelling, bushwalking, and exploring Australia's natural beauty.

Melbourne, Victoria

contact@wfwpaustralia.org

www.wfwpaustralia.org